Your giving matters

Dear Lynne,

We hope that you and your loved ones are safe and well during this extraordinary time.

Thank you for supporting ANU over the years. We are delighted to present to you the Impact of Giving: 2019 Report to Donors. This report celebrates some of the many stories of donors who make a positive difference in the ANU community.

U.N. Bhati's is one such story. His relationship with the University goes back 52 years, with three generations of the Bhati family having graduated from ANU. And, just like you, U.N. believes in the power of philanthropy. We hope you will enjoy hearing from U.N. Bhati, about why he chooses to give.

From supporting scholarships that help remove barriers to grants that empower Indigenous higher degree students to pursue research, our donors help our community achieve incredible things. From individual to corporate donors, from new donors to those leaving behind a legacy, to those who have inspired the new Kambri Scholars program – what brings you all together is the impact you make by choosing to support ANU.

As a donor, you cannot underestimate the power of your giving. In times like these, the support you provide is more important than ever.

Thank you for your generosity.
