

Good morning Lynne,

In just a matter of weeks, our world changed. It has been difficult, and it can feel like there is much uncertainty. I find myself looking for routine, craving normalcy and leaning into my friends, family and community.

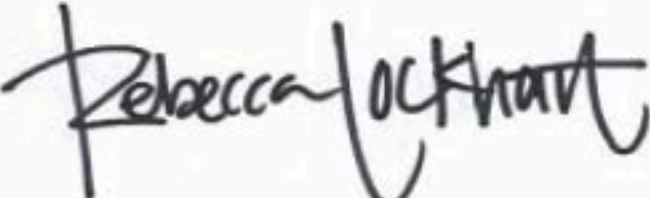

As I work from home and watch my two young boys play together, it is calming and hopeful to reflect on areas that have remained true:

- The dedication and generosity of you, our supporters and donors
- The incredible loyalty from our partners at ESPN
- The V Foundation's unwavering commitment to stop cancer
- The inspiration found in the stories of our loved ones facing cancer

As we band together, I encourage you to think about what remains steady in your life, recall the stories that bring joy and encouragement and find new ways to connect with your community near and far.

Especially during these challenging times, we are so grateful to have you on our team. You truly are the heart of our work to accelerate cancer research and save more lives.

Thank you for bringing me inspiration, hope and gratitude every day.
